Saturday 2-9-22. Rain squalls right through the night. Daylight, fresh breeze. Afternoon weather moderate. I wanted Neilson to make a start away. Said that he would go at daylight in the morning.

Sunday 3-9-22. Daylight. Weather squally. Neilson would not make a start, waiting now untill the tide turns.
10 am. Squalls have cleared off. Neilson wants to wait till tomorrow morning; but I at last persuade him to make a start. Set sail 10.30 am. Big sea outside & fresh SE breeze. Stand out for a few miles, then square off for Cape Flattery nothing of note on way: Anchor 5 pm " "

Monday 4-9-22 Daylight; fresh SE breeze. Successive rain squalls passing to the eastward. Neilson wanted to anchor for the day. 8.30 am the weather had cleared up abit so I persuaded him to make a start again. Passing Feulle group is. Maspelonka. Anchor Cape Bowen. 7 pm.

Tuesday 5-9-22. Daylight fresh SE breeze. Set sail 7-30 am. An occasional flock of Torres strait Pigeon Maspelonka seen flying past.
Midday pass Cape Melville, breeze freshened, & sea got pretty rough. Neilson wanted to anchor Flinders is, but I persuaded him to go on to Bathurst head.

Anchored at 3 p.m. Go ashore & inland 1½ miles to a big open fresh water lagoon or swamp, (about 1 1/2 x 3/4 miles) fringed in places with rushes. A great flock of thousands of Duck, Black, Teal & Pinkeared, rose from the edge, broke up into smaller flocks & settled again near centre of swamp. On the far side, hundreds of Pelicans & Native Companions could be seen. Wade out into the lagoon which was only knee deep to try & get a shot at the Ducks, no luck, they were too wary Wednesday 6-9-22. 1-am. Very light breeze. Set sail, as we have to reach the mouth of Stewart river 32 miles distant by 9-30 am to get the benefit of the tide.

Did not reach mouth of river till 10 am. Tide falling, Neilson decided to chance it, so kept on. Bumped over the sandbank outside for about 50 yds, just get inside mouth of river & go up on another bank & could not get off. Have lunch & go up to wharf in Dinghy
No pack teams down from Coen yet.
Started to blow pretty hard about 3 p.m. Low tide, boat high & dry on the bank.
Neilson does not think that he will be able to get up to wharf with the boat as the tides are now taking off

When tide started to rise
I load some of my gear
into Dinghey & take it up to wharf shed. have to stack it on verandah as shed is locked & the wharfinger away in Courtstown. A boy there tells me the keys of shed are at the 2 mile Silverplain station. Go back & bring up another Dinghey load of gear.
10 pm. high tide, plenty of water for boat to get up to wharf. Cannot persuade Wilson to shift, he says there is too much wind & that the boat might get stuck in a warm place. Take my bedding & go up to wharf shed to sleep.

Thursday 7-9-22. Go up to Gilces place stn for keys of the Wharf shed. 1½ miles along the road I saw 3 Emus D novaehollandiae, did not have gun or Revolver with me. I tried imitating the whistling call of young birds & the Emus came up to within 50 yds. then took fright & ran off. Nearing the station I saw a pair of True creepers C melanonota, watch them for some time, no result. Reach station & get the key from Mrs Cullen then return to boat. High tide 10 am. Try to shift the boat further up the river, but fail as tide was not high enough. Lunch. Take a load of stores up to wharf in Dinghy. Then take Gun & Revolver & go along to where I saw the Emus this morning. Meet M Shephard carrier, coming along with Waggon & horses. The other pack teams should be along later.

Out in about 3 hours looking for the Emus but did not see them. Saw their tracks in a couple of places. 10 pm. high water. Wilson brings the boat up to the wharf; just enough water to float her. All hands assist in unloading cargo; take out about 3 tons

Friday 8-9-22. Finish unloading the boat. Get stores sorted out & weighed, the carrier charges by weight & Muilson by measurement. My stores & equipment weighed a ton.
After lunch I went out again to try & get an Emus. Saw fresh tracks on the road about the same spot where I saw them yesterday, they were heading in towards the saltpans at back of Mangroves to northward of Port Stuart. Strike fresh tracks again on one of the Saltpans, follow them for a couple of miles & came onto 3 Emus at edge of Saltpan they caught sight of me first & made off. Hunt round for some time but could not locate them again Return. Bill Shephard came down with pack team this afternoon the mules working up & down all the small creeks & gullies running into on the left & [illegible] along the other hand worked up & down all the creeks creeks & gullies, Kangaroo tracks seen in nearly all of them but saw no sign of any mob. About a quarter of a mile from camp & [illegible] and [illegible]

the South road up & down for about a mile &
all the smaller creeks.

to see if I could get any specimens. Could not find any. Have a single specimen of [illegible] [illegible] about it. At the edge of clearing near camp
I saw a Black Honeyeater.
Myzomela nigra. Shot it.
Gave it to Leader. After I had finished, I went out to have another try at shooting. [illegible] were never heard it call before.

[illegible] about 1 p.m. heard again the birds. While at work I heard the faint trilling whistle of Kemp's Flycatcher K. kempii

Saw the bird in a dry tree at edge of clearing, about 8 yards away. The bird got in some thick undergrowth & I could not find it.

Spend the rest of afternoon in searching around places near camp where [illegible] birds are always calling around [illegible].

Monday. 2 - 10 - 39. Walked down Nevill's creek for about a mile & up a [illegible] all the small creeks running into it.
